Activities Update

Mammoth continues to advance activities at its 100% owned Tenoriba gold-silver exploration project in the prolific Sierra Madre precious metal belt in southwestern Chihuahua State, Mexico. The Company, collaborating with RM Minería S de RL de CV, is evaluating the potential to advance a bulk sample and pilot leaching of shallow oxidized gold-silver material at Tenoriba, in addition to resource definition drilling. The bulk sample has the potential to both generate processing design knowledge while drilling could facilitate a maiden mineral resource at Tenoriba, with the added potential of generating cash flow from the bulk sampling. The Mexican team is also evaluating a variety of potential near-term precious metal production opportunities in Mexico. It is important to note with these activities that there is no certainty on the timing and success of the acquisition of any near-term precious metal production opportunities, however, given the years of experience of the Company's Mexican directors the potential for engaging with parties on opportunities is greatly enhanced as a result of their many years of industry experience in Mexico and contacts at all levels of the Mexican mining industry.

Issuance of Incentive Options

In accordance with TSX Policy 4.4, the Company has issued 4,775,500 common share stock options to directors, officers and contract employees of the Company. This issuance totals 45% of the total number of options eligible to be issued by the Company under the terms of the Company's Stock Option Plan and are exercisable at $0.05 per common share (yesterday's closing share price on the TSX Venture Exchange). The Company offers no cash compensation to directors and last issued incentive stock options to directors, officers and contractors of the Company in late 2022. 927,400 options under this issuance replace options issued in 2017, which expired earlier this year. Options issued to directors and officers are based on levels of incentive compensation paid to similar small capitalization companies as referenced in a recent industry compensation review and a number which is approximately equal to the percentage of options issued, relative to the number of shares outstanding, prior to the recent private placement (refer to press release date August 19, 2025), with the exercise price of these options at a 100% premium to the per unit private placement price.
